

My School and Plastic Waste

My school can play an important role in reducing plastic waste. Students can be encouraged to bring reusable water bottles and lunch boxes instead of single-use plastic items.

Separate bins can be placed around the school for wet and dry waste. Students can collect clean plastic waste and put it into the correct dry waste collection point. The school can also organise awareness campaigns, poster-making activities and plastic collection drives.

These activities can teach students why plastic segregation is important. If every student follows these simple habits, our school will become cleaner. We can also take these habits home and encourage our families to follow them. A clean school can inspire a clean community.
